Teach War of the Ring: Second Edition in ten minutes

2 to 4 (best at 2) players · 150 to 180 minutes · Ages 13 and up

The goal: Free Peoples: destroy the Ring or take 4 Shadow points. Shadow: corrupt the Ring-bearers to 12 or take 10 points.

On your turn

1. Recover dice and draw one card from each of your two decks. Hand limit is six.
2. Fellowship phase: the Free Peoples may declare the Fellowship and change the Guide.
3. Hunt allocation: the Shadow puts dice in the Hunt Box, up to one per Companion.
4. Roll. Every Shadow Eye goes straight to the Hunt Box.
5. Take turns using one die each, Free Peoples first: move, attack, muster, play cards, or move the Fellowship.
6. Each Fellowship move triggers a Hunt roll. Every 6 is a success, plus 1 per die already moved.
7. Battle: roll one die per unit up to five, hit on 5 or 6. Leaders re-roll misses.
8. Victory check at the end of the turn for military wins.

Three tips for your first game

1. Teach the Fellowship and the Hunt first. They make the game different from every other war game.
2. Moving the Fellowship twice in one turn makes the Hunt much easier. Say this out loud.
3. Only Nations at War can muster, attack, or cross other borders. Check the Political Track before planning.

Setup

1. Ring-bearers in Rivendell. Progress counter on 0, Hidden side up. Corruption counter on 0.
2. Companion cards in the Guide box, Gandalf the Grey on top. Figures in the Fellowship box.
3. Shuffle four Event decks. Standard Hunt tiles in a cup, special tiles aside.
4. Shadow takes 7 red action dice, Free Peoples take 4 blue. Elven Rings to the Free Peoples.
5. Political counters on their marked steps. All Free Peoples Nations passive except the Elves.
6. Place starting armies from the setup chart. Everything else is reinforcements.

Scoring

- Each enemy City you hold is worth 1 victory point.
- Each enemy Stronghold you hold is worth 2 victory points.
- Shadow needs 10 points. Free Peoples need 4.
- Corruption reaches 12 at any moment: the Shadow wins at once.
- Ring-bearers reach the Crack of Doom under 12 Corruption: the Free Peoples win at once.

Game end: The two Ring victories end the game the moment they happen. The two military victories are checked in the last phase of each turn.
